

PROGRAM FOR THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION BY EXTENSION

Dec. 2011 Newsletter Issue 12

Serving Together

On November 23, 2011 the Chairman of the Program for Theological Education by Extension Executive Committee, Jiries Habash, cut the ribbon on the occasion of opening the PTEE building for use, after renovating the office floor. We want to thank all of you who are reading this letter for your help through encouragement, prayer or giving of funds. Thank you again.

Ahead of us will be projects for renovating two more floors, preparing the outdoor parking, rebuilding a concrete wall and gates, and installing an elevator. But for now we are delighted to be getting used to our own offices.

After the ribbon cutting ceremony, we held our first event, a Successor Planning Workshop. Dr. Dougg Custer facilitated our planning. By the end of 2012, we hope to have appointed a new Executive Director.

During 2012, we are looking forward to beginning some new projects. We will be raising funds for several Bachelor degree level courses, our first Master's degree level course and additional courses for our Certificate of Ministry.

We also hope to launch our e-learning project. We want to take the 36 courses we already have in digital format and reconfigure them for online internet learning.

As we begin our 31st year as a theological education study program, our main goal is to serve the churches of the Arabic speaking world by providing theological education for church members who want to deepen their relationship with Christ. They will experience this change as they study and apply the Scriptures. On the following two pages are the stories of four of our PTEE students who are growing in Christ as they study PTEE courses.

On the last page we introduce you to our Scholar-in-Residence, Dr. Ant Greenham. We would also like to draw your attention to the Margaret Mary Hart Memorial. We have created this memorial giving program in memory of our Executive Director's mother. We are grateful for her support of the PTEE for 30 years. We hope this memorial will encourage people to pray for us and give to our projects.
